Wedding celebration in an historic icon of Stockholm

A world where history is interwoven with a modern sense of exclusivity.
Gamla Riksarkivet stands as a timeless palace in Riddarholmen, in the heart of Stockholm's inner city, and has a remarkable history that dates back to 1887.

The building tells stories from past generations and the walls whisper of the past.
Situated in the heart of Stockholm, we offer not just a glimpse into the city's history, but a unique opportunity to celebrate the most significant moment in life.

Welcome to organize your wedding at Gamla Riksarkivet.

Our venues

With an unbeatable view of the Parliament, the House of Nobility, and Old Town, you can host your lunch and dinner in Forskarsalen, which is our largest venue. The hall accommodates up to 120 people seated at round tables, with generous natural light from the large windows facing the Stockholm stream, allowing plenty of daylight for your daytime event. Forskarsalen is complemented by the adjacent Expeditionen and Salongen for a bar, mingling, and dance floor before or after dinner. Here you have everything you need for a successful party.
